

this is bullshit, the FCC needs to show some balls and stand up to the telemarketers instead of standing there with your hand out for a free lunch, if I don't want to be called, then you do not have the right to call me, I pay my phone bill, when you start paying for it then you will get the right to call, end of f'in story.